

Guernsey County Sportsmen for Conservation Awards Scholarship to Local Youth

Making the presentation, Roby Williams, Guernsey County Wildlife Officer; Lisa Moore, recipient; Ken Scherf, President; and Jeremy Scherf, Scholarship Chairman.

Lisa Moore of Byesville was recently presented with a $1000 college scholarship from the Guernsey County Sportsmen for Conservation. She is a student at Ohio University in Athens, majoring in Environmental Geography, and minoring in Plant Biology, and is a graduate of Meadowbrook High School.

The Sportsmen for Conservation annually awards a scholarship to a second-year or greater college student from Guernsey County who is studying in a forestry, wildlife, or natural resources conservation related field.

The Sportsmen for Conservation is the licensing agent in Guernsey County for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Division of Wildlife, who distributes the hunting and fishing licenses. The $1 writing fee is used for conservation related purposes and one of the many projects the Sportsmen for Conservation have is the scholarship fund.
